

A VISIT TO THE COFORGE PUBLIC LIBRARY, VASANT SQUARE MALL

On 22nd, 23rd and 24th July 2026, Koel's had their first memorable visit to a library, a glimpse into the exciting world of books! The Coforge public library, situated in Vasant square mall at Vasant kunj welcomed them. This new library was inaugurated on 5th June 2026, CSR project by an AI engineering services company; anyone can come and access their books for free, a true heaven for book lovers.

It was a rainy day but that didn't dampen their spirits. The children had their food before their circle time. Teachers made sure that children had their nourishment before embarking on the trip. At 9:50 am was their circle time, in which the teacher gave introduction about the library. For kids this is their first opportunity to see and explore a library. Teacher explained to them what a library is, what they should expect to see there, who takes care of the books in library (a Librarian's duties), how borrowing of books happens using a library card etc. She aptly used pictorial flash cards to make the children understand the rules that they have to follow in a library. For instance; no touching, shouting, running, talking in the library because this will disturb people who are reading there. She also told them that when they are given books, they have to read silently, handle books carefully and eating and drinking inside the library is not allowed.

At around 10:10 am, all children boarded the school bus with their class teacher, Elizabeth Ma'am, and one attendant. At around 10:40 am kids reached their destination. Teacher asked them to leave their water bottles in the bus. The Librarian welcomed us and showed the students the 'kid's room' where they have kept young children's literature. The kids showed lot of discipline and quietly occupied their places to sit. The librarian asked the kids some basic questions, like 'Do you like books?' to which one student replied 'I love books!', others said they like reading stories and looking at pictures. The librarian did a story telling session with the children, she read them a sound book (Beep Beep Brm!) from the popular kids' cartoon character Peppa pig. The children were asked to guess the sound...and all of them participated in it with great enthusiasm. Children were given some small board books to read, after reading they exchanged it with their friends.

At around 12 pm children reached back to the school. In the classroom the teacher again spoke to them about what all they have observed in the library. She asked them to recall and draw what they have observed there. They shared their drawing with the teacher confidently and described what they had drawn.

I am glad the class teacher and the school took the initiative to introduce children to the world of books, an institution of knowledge and learning. It's very clear that the efforts of parents and school has borne fruit, when the child shows interest in books at such a young age.

Visit to the Library

I liked the feeling books.

- The children's library room
- The librarian auntie told us story & then she showed the big screen - in which we could find anybook.
- we had to follow the rules in the library
- no shouting & disturbing others.
- no spoling & tearing storybooks.
